By participating in your child's educational experience you will observe their joy for learning, solving problems, and building relationships.

Through the parent education program, you will learn age appropriate guidance techniques, how to promote problem solving skills with your child, receive support from other parents, enhance your knowledge of childhood development and receive college credit.

"Physical play is one of the main ways in which children interact with experience. The most characteristic thing about the human is that we go looking for problems to solve, which is playing in children."

Endangered Minds

By Jane Healy

The Crescent Cooperative Preschool program strives to provide a fun, safe, and loving environment for young children to grow, learn, and explore the world around them. Teachers and families work together to promote the social, emotional, cognitive, and physical development of each child.

Family Life Education Program

Active Learners

Young children are joyful, active learners. Through exploration, they discover how the world works. We provide children with a variety of stimulating experiences during this critical time of brain development.

Children are encouraged to create and act out the many roles in their world through daily activities of:

Cooperation is promoted by modeling language and teaching problem solving skills. Learning social skills is one of the most important tasks of the preschooler.

Our Teacher and Preschool Parent Instructor

- That honors the way children learn best through direct, hands-on experiences with people, objects, events, and ideas.
- That encourages active relationships with parents and other children to promote social growth and readiness to learn, grow, and develop their potential.
