COVER STORY:

A Head for Numbers

An academic evolution has made Jennifer Linde a bookkeeper in demand

If you need to talk to Jennifer Linde while she's on the Peninsula College campus, you'll have to make it quick. A graduate of PC's associates and bachelor's degree programs, and recent master's degree recipient, Linde's success has made her a woman in high demand. In addition to several bookkeeping jobs, she also co-owns a small business with her husband while raising her four children, ages 10–15.

Life wasn't always this organized or focused for Linde, who dropped out of high school two months into her sophomore year. For the next 10 years she followed what she called the wrong path, which led to life challenges and losses. With nothing but the clothes on her back, she entered a program at Oxford House and later received her GED from PC in 2008. From there she chased down her AA degree, following it with a Bachelor of Applied Science in Applied Management (BAS) degree at PC. With that momentum she completed her master's degree in accounting at American Public University in October 2015 and traveled to Washington DC to walk with her graduating class this past June.

Looking at her academic record, it would be easy to gloss over the challenges that she faced in the process of these pursuits. Linde said she might not have been able to complete her AA degree due to the pressures of single parenthood until her husband, Anthony, was able to provide the relief and support she needed to focus on her studies. He engaged with her children and stepped in and assumed many of the duties that could have derailed her education. She also found support through Administrative Office Systems Instructor Sherry Sparrowk, who helped her learn Microsoft Office Systems.

"She was engaging and really believed in me," Linde said. "She just kept saying, 'You can do this,' and kept pushing me along."

Jennifer Linde, PC Alum

Following her work study internship with PC's Community and Business Education (CBE) Program, the Peninsula College Foundation was looking for a bookkeeper and Linde was recommended by Director of CBE, Linty Hopie, as a good fit for the role.

As she neared completion of her BAS degree, she was hired for a paid internship in 2013 by the Economic Development Corporation (EDC) and began working there part time. Upon graduation she was hired to work there full time as the Director of Operations and Finance. Meanwhile, she and her husband opened Anthony's Car Care, an auto detailing business, where she maintains the books.

Today, in addition to her work at the EDC, PC Foundation, and her small business, Linde also works as a bookkeeper for a local homeowners association. In her free time, she volunteers as the Port Angeles Eagles Board Treasurer and sits on the United Way Board.

Linde admits there is a possibility of a Ph.D in her future, and a CPA license, but she and her family are taking a break from homework for now.

With their team approach to success, Linde and Anthony saw their financial situation improve as Jennifer began receiving jobs, and they embarked on their business. They were able to leave subsidized housing as their situation improved and are currently renting with plans to own a home.

"We have become fully self-sufficient," she said, "and my education is why."

A one of a kind Honors Program

The Peninsula College Honors Program brings together students motivated to achieve academic success. Honors students at Peninsula College say the program is exciting, allows them to pursue their education in classes made up of similarly motivated students, helps them identify and complete a project they are passionate about, and move forward to better pursue their life goals. We are accepting applications from students interested in beginning the Program Fall Quarter.

Associate of Arts Degree - Earn more and save more at PC!

Why should you get an Associate of Arts Degree at Peninsula College? Because it's a bargain that could improve your life!

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics (http://www.bls.gov/emp/ep\_chart\_001.htm), adults over 25 with a two-year college degree make on average almost 18% more than those with a high school degree, while those with a 4-year degree make on average 68% more than those with a high school degree. So whether you get a two-year degree and go on to a career or transfer to a university, your chances of improving your livelihood increase by getting a degree. And if you get a two-year degree from Peninsula College before transferring to a four-year school, you will be saving money. In 2014-15, the average in-state tuition for Washington four-year colleges and universities was $17,904 per year, while the average in-state tuition for community colleges was $5,224 (<http://www.collegecalc.org/colleges/washington/community-colleges/>).

What's more, at Peninsula College, you can earn that two-year degree by attending classes on our beautiful campus at the foot of the Olympic Mountains or by taking online courses that fit with your busy schedule.

ENGL& 244: American Literature I

Item 2630, section AU | TWThF 11:30AM to 12:30PM | 5 cr
Instructor: Dr. Helen Lovejoy

What is American literature? Beginning with some of the first stories told about the Pacific Northwest by the indigenous peoples through to the recent, popular work of Junot Diaz, ENGL& 244 will be a broad survey of texts that make up the literature of our very diverse country. With centuries of material to cover, we'll explore writers who are considered very significant and those who are lesser known and less celebrated (but no less important!). We'll read poetry, fiction, non-fiction and drama and welcome guest speakers to class. Students will be invited to share some of their favorite writers. We will examine questions such as: What social, cultural, and historical factors affect how literature is produced and understood in our country? How has literature contributed to the formation and understanding of "America"? What does reading these texts teach us about ourselves and our communities?

ENGL 236: Creative Writing

Item 2610, section AU | TWThF 10:20 to 11:20 | 5 cr
Instructor: Dr. Janet Lucas

Haven't you always wanted to take that creative writing class? To invite your poems or stories that would otherwise stay stashed away in a folder somewhere out to dance? Maybe you've just been waiting for an opportunity and the incentive of a class to put your creative ideas on paper. In this class we will write and read poetry, fiction, nonfiction, and humor, although you are free to specialize in any of these artistic genres. You can expect friendly, fun workshops and plenty of camaraderie, accompanied by honest,

Interested in art, music, or creative writing? How about editing, hands-on graphic design/multi-media, or publishing? If any of these appeal to you, join the Tidepools magazine staff next quarter! Tidepools is an award-winning annual art, lit, and music magazine that has been published by PC students for more than 50 years. You'll gain hands-on experience in editing, publishing, and media and be immersed in the art and literary works sent in to be published. Tidepools meets Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 12:35 to 1:20pm and is a variable credit class; in other words, you may take it for 1, 2, or 3 credits. If you are interested in writing, editing, designing, or working for a magazine, this class gives you hands-on experience producing a publication that will be sold across the Peninsula. Prerequisite: ENGL 101 or permission of instructor.
