The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is a must-have when applying for money to pay for college from PC. There's no cost to apply and we recommend you submit your FAFSA as soon as possible. A new FAFSA is required every academic year. Complete it on your phone using the myStudentAid app.

There's an app for that!

This is a college that puts you—the student—front and center. Students choose PC because they know they can get an excellent education at a fraction of the cost they would pay at other colleges and universities. I look forward to meeting you and welcoming you to a very special place.

DR. LUKE ROBINS

President

Our adult learners are hard-working, family-oriented, and grateful to be in school. Navigating a new country can be daunting, so our classroom is a safe gathering place for them, and we treat each other like a big family. They bring an amazing breadth of backgrounds to the class, and every day is a learning experience for all of us. When my students get their driver's license, pass the citizenship test, move on to college courses, or simply blossom into confident English speakers, these are concrete achievements that we can all celebrate.

What do you want students to know?

Well, it's really just an honor getting to know students and being a part of each PC student's life journey. I love that my position allows me to contribute meaningfully to students and help them reach their educational goals.

COLLEGE & CAREER
COMPASS
WASHINGTON

www.compass.wsac.wa.gov

Nearly one million working-aged adults in Washington have not finished the courses they need to earn a credential, according to the Washington Student Achievement Council (WSAC). Peninsula College, along with two- and four-year campuses across the state, is using a new tool to connect with those individuals. College & Career Compass is an online tool that can help empower adults on the Olympic Peninsula to return to school, earn a credential, and advance in their careers.

The program allows users to:

- Find critical information, tips and resources for returning adult learners.
- Search for Washington educational programs and pathways.
- Connect with campuses committed to supporting adult learners' progress.

I love the variety of students at PC and all the different backgrounds. Each class is often a mixture of local students just out of high school, athletes from other states, international students, and students returning to school after many years. I've always loved working with teenagers because of their energy and spontaneity (which is why I began by teaching in high school), so it's wonderful to still work a lot with that population, but it's also a lot of fun to interact with the students my age and to connect with similar experiences.

The best part of working with PC students is learning about each person's unique story and getting to know students from diverse backgrounds.

What is The working

They tackle things they thought they weren't smart enough to do and realize that anything is possible with curiosity, patience and persistence.

I love being able watch them grow as both players and individuals. Nothing makes my day more than when a player approaches me with an "aha!" moment that came from something I shared with them or something they practiced on campus. College is such a wonderful time for exploration and discovering yourself, and I am honored to be a part of their journey.

best part of with PC students?

I have the opportunity to work with the best possible students. Our students come from a wide variety of backgrounds and are pursuing many different kinds of goals but they are consistently hardworking, focused and willing to learn. It is truly a privilege to work with our student population.

I enjoy seeing students succeed. Two years flies by, and it is amazing to see the change in our students over that time. The confidence they get after finishing a degree while dealing with all of the challenges that life throws at them is really something else!

If you are unemployed or need new skills for a job, WORKER RETRAINING may be able to help you.

Worker Retraining is a state-funded program designed to support training costs for unemployed, or underemployed workers.

This includes:

- Assistance with paying for classes
- Transportation costs
- Educational supplies and tools
- Child and/or dependent care costs

Support is provided in the form of a grant and does not have to be repaid.
